

Game Theory Tools Electives Educational Goals

These educational goals apply to the following courses:

ECON 222	Introduction to Game Theory
ECON 422	Seminar in Game Theory

1 Analyze and Interpret economic models

Introductory/Developing:

- Use game theory to analyze strategic interactions
- Solve and interpret economic models commonly used in the course's subject area
- Identify main economic concepts related to the course's subject area

3 Critically assess economic arguments, assumptions, and evidence

Introductory/Developing:

- Critically evaluate assumptions in economic/econometric models

4 Use oral, written, and graphical methods to communicate economic insights

Introductory/Developing:

- Present economic arguments verbally

5 Use economic concepts to understand real-world human activity and public policy

Introductory/Developing:

- Apply economics to everyday situations

6 Describe and analyze important economic institutions, events, and results

Introductory/Developing:

- Describe main theoretical findings in the course's subject area